

Japan Demands U. S. Guarantee Against Attack

Oriental Will Not Accept Naval Ratio Plan Without Peace
Insurance

WILSON IS TAKING HAND
Believe Former President Will Ask Acceptance of League
With Reservations

Washington—Bargaining over the big question now before the arms conference—the capital ship conference—between the United States and Japan—is in full swing.

The Japanese sources Friday advanced the proposal that the Hughes ratio of 60 per cent would be accepted, if an agreement were reported among the powers that no war be started against Japan except on six months notice.

The Japanese, however, are backing away from another proposal that America agree to abandon fortifications on the Pacific before they accept the Hughes ratio and made it clear that they will not break up the conference over the capital ship fight.

From sources close to former president Wilson it was learned that he is considering asking the league of nations to act as a mediator in this conflict.

Mediation of the Shantung question
continued.

Hinges on Security Japan's position toward the naval ratio hinges upon the question of guarantees for her "national security."

This point was made emphatically clear by a delegation spokesman Friday, who reiterated an earlier suggestion that an agreement whereby Japan would not be attacked without six months notice, was what the Japanese now desire.

Kato and other Japanese have said they cannot reconcile themselves to accepting the present 60 per cent allowance as it stands, but they are ready to accept it if a guarantee against such an attack is assured. Perhaps this might be in the form of a tripartite agreement, perhaps a general Pacific agreement or some arbitration plan.

RECKON WITH HATRED
In any event the Japanese without actually fearing war from America, reckoned with the possibility that agitated hatred in this country might sooner or later burst out so violently that a conflict would result. In such an event they would want a "breathing spell." And on this theory they are balking at the 60 per cent ratio unless there is attached thereto some sort of a scheme affording them protection politically. Acceptance or ultimate rejection of the ratio will rest on this scheme, it is clearly indicated.

The naval holiday idea has not been scrapped. Concessions as to replacements in the ten year period, however, are most likely naval experts indicated.

FORD AND EDISON
TO INSPECT PLANT
AT MUSCLE SHOALS

By United Press Leased Wire
Detroit, Mich.—A special train carrying Thomas A. Edison and Henry Ford to inspect the government Muscle Shoals plant, which the auto manufacturer wants to buy, left here at 10 a. m.
Friday. The train was routed over the Ford railroad—the Detroit, Ironton and Toledo line.

Called Parley To Save Their Scalps

Wilson Says League Enemies
Foresaw Political Reaction if They Evaded Demand for Peace—Time to Test Their Americanism Now.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Woodrow Wilson may soon sound a rallying call urging friends of the league of nations to a new effort to vindicate the principles the league embodies.

Wilson, according to a recent caller,
believes the time has arrived to test the sincerity of those who said they opposed the league on "American grounds." The former president was quoted as having said he did not believe senators could save their faces if they were now called on to vote on the question of American entrance into the league, under reservations safeguarding all American rights.

Wilson pointed out to his caller that Great Britain, France, Italy and all the other leading league members are willing to agree to virtually any conditions proposed by the United States in return for its entrance into the league.

Wilson has made no direct comment on the Harding association of nations plan. He has expressed the view, however, that "recent events" have shown unmistakably that the United States is headed towards membership in a league of nations. These events include the arms limitation conference, concerning which Wilson has maintained absolute silence so far as the public is concerned.

His close friends, however, say he views the conference as a severe blow to the enemies of the league who wanted the conference because they foreseen a strong political reaction against themselves unless they created some agency that would achieve the ideal expressed in the league—world peace, with a consequent reduction of armaments and taxation.

ACTRESS' SECRET REVEALED BY DEATH

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—The secret in the life of Marie Dressler, actress, was laid bare Friday following the death of James H. Dalton, Boston, known to friends as her husband.

Miss Dressler is now on her way to Carmel, N. Y., with the body of Dalton, which will be buried in the Dalton family lot.

A representative of Miss Dressler stated Friday that Dalton was married to Mrs. L. A. Dalton, 60 Brighton ave., Allston, a suburb of Boston.

Through her confidante, this is the story Miss Dressler told:
"I met Mr. Dalton in 1907 when he was in financial straits. I hired him as my manager."

"We grew to care for each other and decided to get married. Then he convinced me that he was in Boston."
"We went to her and asked her to give him up and get a divorce. She refused. He never went home after that but sent her a monthly allotment."

Intended To Hang Sam But He Got Ducking

By United Press Leased Wire
Sioux City, Iowa—Sam Jones, negro, basked in the smile of Lady Luck Friday.

Sam was charged with betraying the secrets of a negro lodge said to be named the "Sons and Daughters of I Will Arise."

The brethren got a clothesline and captured Sam.

"Boy, you're a traitor," said the head ariser. "You swing."

The rope was tied around Sam's neck and he was swung over a bridge.

But the rope broke and Sam waded to safety.

"And," said Sam Friday, "I am this ten spot ahead. I took it from one of the brethren while he was tipping me. Luck is something what I ain't got nothin' else but."

The Rev. Dudley Smith has been arrested and charged with being in the party.

2 POLICEMEN DIE IN IRISH JAIL BATTLE

Most Serious Outbreak in Ireland Since Truce Occurs in Londonderry

By United Press Leased Wire
London—The most serious outbreak in Ireland since the truce, was reported in a dispatch to the Evening Star from Londonderry where two police men are said to have been killed in a jail battle.

It was also reported the police had been killed by poison gas and chloroform.

Armed men attacked the jail at 3
a. m. the report said. Simultaneous prisoners began a riot and attempted to escape. The police rallied to the defense of the prison guards, driving the attackers and hemming the prisoners in their cells.

Details of the battle contained in other dispatches indicated it was an "inside job." Five wardens and three civilians have been arrested. It was said.

The two police were strangled to death when they were overwhelmed and gagged so securely they could not breathe.

YIELDS AGAIN TO FURNITURE MANIA

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles—Mrs. Etta Hall, divorced wife of Joseph Hall, wealthy Chicago broker, was laid under arrest here Friday charged with looting a dwelling of its furnishings while employed as a maid.

"I'm so sorry," sobbed Mrs. Hall when arrested.

The woman was convicted in Chicago of robbing homes of thousands of dollars worth of furniture while she was employed as a maid.

Following her conviction and an attempt to commit suicide, Hall divorced her.

Mrs. Hall, according to police, had the stolen articles in a fourteen room house she had leased.

NATIONAL INDOOR FAIR PROPOSED FOR NEXT YEAR

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee—Indications that the indoor state fair to be held here next week may prove a forerunner to one of the greatest expositions of its kind ever held in America, came to light here Thursday night.

A meeting will be held Dec. 7 by executives of various associations when plans will be discussed to invite outsiders and put on a national exhibit here in 1922.

Clark Friday denied the allegations and termed them as the "work of disgruntled men" resulting from their discharge.

Japs Want U. S. Promise To Limit Pacific Defense

Mathematic Precision Shows
Japan Can't Refuse to Accept
5-5-3 Naval Ratio—Pacific Details Are Believed Reason for Delay.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—What's behind the Japanese reluctance to accept the American figures fixing the ratio of present naval strength on a basis of 5 for Great Britain, 5 for the United States and 3 for Japan?

This correspondent has had an opportunity to examine the official correspondence passing between Japan and the United States in the secret sessions wherein the American navy experts in detail the method by which the 5-5-3 ratio was fixed. It is an open and shut case. The formula used takes account first of the Japanese estimate of her own strength based upon the tonnage figures she herself furnished, and also takes into account every contention made by the Japanese and works out finally to a 5-5-3 every time. It is a plan piece of arithmetic and the quantity of all who have had a chance to learn how the American program was worked out is what possible objection the Japanese have to its acceptance.

The conclusion being generally reached, partly from things the Japanese themselves are saying and partly from the hints they let fall in the secret sessions, is that the Japanese are getting ready to agree absolutely to the American estimate of existing naval strength but are planning to condition their acceptance upon another agreement with respect to fortifications and naval bases in the Pacific. This question has heretofore not been raised by the Japanese in the official conferences though in the meetings with the press, the Japanese delegates have emphasized the importance of fortifications.

The American delegation doesn't fear the introduction of the fortification problem though of course it will hardly wish to explore that controversial field until a definite understanding has been reached on the basis of the original Hughes program concerning limitation and reduction of naval armaments as well as of the construction.

When fortifications are considered,
the view of the American delegation will be found to be most generous.
The Japanese cannot contend that the bases of the United States in the Pacific are of any value. American naval experts say, if the Hughes program of reduced strength goes into effect, what the Japanese really want is a promise that the United States will not build up her present fortifications or add new bases. This pledge probably would be forthcoming if reciprocated by the Japanese.

Naval bases bear a distinct relationship to naval strength if they are sufficiently near the scene of possible naval operations. If the United States were to conduct an offensive war

COULDN'T RESIST LURE OF UNIFORM

Chicago—Helen Ferguson Drexler, pretty, well dressed and 25, couldn't resist a man if he wore the uniform of Uncle Sam.

She made this explanation Friday when asked by detectives to explain why she was getting monthly allow-ments from 15 soldiers.

"I married four soldiers and posed as the wife of eleven others," she said slyly. "They all made out $15 a month allowances because they loved me."

The damsel in distress also said she had a child three years of age by her second husband.

"In each one of the allotment papers I used the child to collect $5 more each month from the government."

"Quite a useful child, wasn't it, Helen?" queried Sergeant Pat
Sullivan.

Helen will be arraigned before
United States Commissioner Mason Friday for alleged defrauding of the government.

ALIGHTS FROM CYCLE; AUTO INJURES HIM

Milwaukee—Earl James, 25, is near death at a local hospital as the result of injuries received Thursday night when he was struck by an automobile as he stepped from a motorcycle he was driving.

BRIAND IS HOPEFUL AS HE ARRIVES IN FRANCE

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris—"I am confident the noble object of the Washington conference will be attained," Premier Briand declared on his arrival here Friday aboard the liner Paris from America.

Speaking before a delegation at the city hall Briand said:

"I went to Washington carrying a lawyer's brief which even a mediocre lawyer could have pleaded successfully because of the justice of the case."

"I have returned filled with confidence."

"Fatty's" Life Is In Danger If He Is Freed; Trial To End Tonight

San Francisco—A threat has been received by friends of Roscoe Arbuckle that he would be shot down if he left the courtroom if he is acquitted of manslaughter in the death of Virginia Rappe.

This threat following the poisoning of the defense's star witness, Miss Irene M. Morgan, led to extreme precautions to protect the big movie comedian, Friday.

A gray-haired middle-aged man, said to be a "crank," was sought as the poisoner.

The threat against Arbuckle's life was received by his attorney and a friend two days ago, it was learned.
The letters addressed to each stated:
"You and your fat friend will be assassinated."

The girl witness—a nurse from Los Angeles—is reported hovering between life and death from effects of the poisoning. Physicians say they believe she had been given a large quantity of arsenic.

Miss Morgan told police she had met the man at the Arbuckle trial where an attempt had been made to impeach her testimony. She said she went walking with him Thursday at noon. She ate two pieces of candy he gave her. Later she was found in the floor of her room in convulsions. Physicians at first believed she would die but declared Friday morning she had a good chance for recovery.

The big comedian after hearing Leo Friedman, youthful assistant to the district attorney, spend two hours describing the famed funny man of the movies as an "rich criminal," said, "Well, he sure burned me up."

In the eyes of Friedman, Arbuckle was the calloused man who can play pranks, joke and laugh in the face of suffering and "whore out," (bought) when he saw Virginia Rappe in agony, was to get her out of room.

But to McNab, defense attorney, Arbuckle was a man who had tried to be a genial host and helper to the sick and who found himself in the clutches of a relentless prosecutor's office.

The arguments started late Thursday, Friedman completing his opening address for the state and McNab starting his for the defense.

Indications were that the last words for and against the defendant will be spoken Friday afternoon and the vast majority of those who have followed the trial predicted a verdict in time for Arbuckle to "catch an 8 o'clock train for Los Angeles."

LATEST BRITISH PROPOSAL OFFERS NEW IRISH TERMS

Open Hostilities Might Result from Rejection of Lloyd George Plan

By United Press Leased Wire
London—Members of the Sinn Fein peace delegation hurried to Dublin
Friday for a conference with Eamon DeValera and his cabinet, to decide on peace or war in Ireland.

The Irish cabinet had before it Lloyd George's latest proposal, rejection of which may lead to renewed hostilities.

Lloyd George's substitute proposals were taken to Dublin last night by the Sinn Fein cabinet Friday.

It is understood the terms give the Sinn Fein counties of Ireland a dominion status within the empire, reduce the area under the jurisdiction of the Ulster parliament and provide that certain functions of government shall be administered jointly by representatives of northern and southern Ireland.

POMMERENING IS REELECTED HEAD OF EQUITY UNION

Nelson and Houston Are Downed After Contest Lasting Beyond Midnight

By United Press Leased Wire
Eau Claire—With the reelection after midnight Friday morning of President E. C. Pommerening as president of the Wisconsin Union of the American society of Equity of the administration forces and the defeated insurgent crowd were marshalling their forces preparatory to balloting on the office of vice president and treasurer, the latter a new elective office created Thursday by an amendment to the constitution and bylaws.

The vote by which Pommerening was elected early Friday morning was close, the incumbent winning out over Assemblyman George A.
Nelson of Polk county, reputed Non-partisan league and supporter of Gov. Blaine, by a scant majority. The vote was 446 to 425.

The nominating speeches for Pommerening, Houston and Nelson were peaceful, temperate affairs and contained little if anything that might be construed as an attack on the opposition.

Election of vice president and treasurer is expected before the close of Friday's session.

STOCKYARDS TRADERS
FIGHT NEW U. S. LAW

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Loyd Maher, attorney for stockyard traders, argued before Federal Judges Landis, Evans and Fitzhugh Friday for an order to restrain the government from enforcement of the business of traders involved in the stockyards act which went into effect yesterday.

Maher charged the act was a usurpation of the business of traders involved in the stockyards act which went into effect yesterday.

He said it made them register with the government and keep their books open for inspection.

C.W. Morse On Way To Rome To Regain Health

Authorities Believe Charles W. Morse Will Return to United States Without Protest—
Hints Politics in War Fraud Charges

Harro—Charles W. Morse, the American shipbuilding financier, whose apprehension in connection with the alleged shipping frauds have been requested by the United States government, was allowed to land from the liner Paris upon his arrival here Friday.

Morse probably will return to the United States Monday on the Paris.
It was believed some agreement had been made between him and French officials that he would return on the Paris when she sails, without attempting to fight against going back to the United States.

Officials made clear that Morse had at no time been placed under arrest.
"I am most surprised," Morse told the United Press before he left the Paris. "I can hardly believe it."

"I am enroute to Rome to consult a doctor and then intended to take the Weissbaden cure. I know there will be difficulties between the government and the navigation companies over this. I cannot see how I am involved.
Certainly any arrest would be illegal.
"I am a victim of political complications. The Republicans are trying to compromise the Democrats."

REMAINED JOVIAL
Morse ate his breakfast aboard the liner while the French detectives—armed only with orders forbidding his landing, lolled about the room, trying to look unconcerned. The jovial Morse, looking like a healthy, robust super-businessman, laughed and joked with newspapermen. He asked them questions regarding his baggage which he was most anxious to obtain if he was forced to go to some jail ashore.

"This is merely a civil case and they are trying to make a criminal case of it," Morse said.

SUGGESTS DEPORTATION
Washington—Federal authorities have decided that the only way Charles W. Morse, shipbuilder and financier, can be brought back to this country, at once, unless he will come voluntarily is through a French government order for his deportation.

The Black-Rector case now on trial in circuit court will go to the jury. This was definitely settled by Judge Park at 1230 Friday afternoon when he denied a motion of Attorney P. H. Martin for a nonsuit for each and all the defendants against whom he claimed no case had been established.

The plaintiff's attorneys finished their side of the case at 11:45 but reserved the right to call a witness who was absent. Attorney Martin immedi-

completed and the original proposal to scrap everything under construction still stands. Secretary Hughes is arguing that if once the principle is violated, the whole structure of the American proposals is broken down. He insists that the vessels under construction must be counted in any ratios and must be scrapped. The United States has spent $330,000,000 already on ships in the process of building and the American delegation has told the Japanese that the public opinion of this country would not countenance the loss of such a large sum of money unless Japan was willing also to scrap everything she was building. In other words the sentimental fondness of the Japanese for the "Mitsuru" is largely counterbalanced by a sentimental fondness for the $330,000,000 already spent by America.

The big issue is slowly emerging however. It is not the quarrel over ratios of existing strength but fortifications and collateral matters on which the Japanese are not eager to agree at once. The attitude of the conference does not indicate hopelessness but confidence that the differences which have appeared will soon be solved.

MEMORY OF MRS. BLACK FAILS AT CRITICAL TIME

Does Not Remember Discussing Husband's Condition With Municipal Judge

Testifying under oath that she "cannot remember," Mrs. John M. Black was excused from the witness stand in the Thursday afternoon session of the Liberty loan raid case now on trial in circuit court after Attorney P. H. Martin for the defense asked her if she had sought the advice of Judge A. M. Spencer concerning what she could do about the condition of her husband. When Attorney Martin asked her if she would swear she did not seek advice from Judge Spencer, she answered "cannot remember."

In trying to learn if Mrs. Black had spoken to anyone regarding her husband's condition prior to the time of the alleged "night raid" in November, 1918, Attorney Martin put the question as to a conversation in the D. J. Ryan home in Buchanan which she and a son had visited a short time before the "raid." She denied having talked to Mr. Ryan or his family about Mr. Black and further denied she said she hoped the visit to the Ryan home would not upset her husband who was not feeling well. She said her husband was an abstemious man from intoxicating liquors and had only a public school education.

R. F. Shephard, Appleton real estate agent was the first witness to take the stand in the Thursday afternoon session of the trial saying that in all his dealings with Mr. Black before the "night raid" he had found him to be in a good sound state of mind, when questioned by Attorney W. D. Corrigan for the plaintiff.

Judge John Butenschek of the county court, took the stand to give evidence as to the filing of papers in his court of the mental condition of John M. Black. He produced a book in which such notations are filed but said he could not find the original paper. By request of Attorney Martin the judge was excused and evidence stricken from records.

BLACK HAD VISIONS

Mr. Black had visions of arriving at the northern hospital for the insane with kings and queens and that he was continually talking about building churches from stones gathered from the depths of a lake, were some of the incidents, Dr. B. W. Provost, formerly on the staff of the Northern hospital in Oshkosh, testified while on the stand. Dr. Provost said he was on the staff of the hospital at the time Mr. Black was there and had talked with him on an average of two times a day. Mr. Black also believed, according to Dr. Provost that men were after him all the time.

Dr. Provost and Dr. A. S. Gilles of the hospital agreed that the disease of the brain found in Mr. Black could have been caused by the alleged trouble at the Black home during the November previous to that time. They diagnosed the case as paranoia which they defined as a disease of the brain due to organic insanity. Mental shocks and strains, overwork and worrying were given as some of the causes of paranoia.

According to Dr. Gilles, Mr. Black was transferred to the Outagamie asylum because he had been classified as an incurable and could then be closer to his home where visits of members of the family could be made more frequent. The doctors said Mr. Black felt he was being persecuted because he was retained at the Northern hospital.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head and ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1-ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing and noisy. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

MILWAUKEE POLICE OFFICER CHEERFUL NOW

Tells How One Bottle of Garren's Tonic Has Changed Him From Sickness to Health and Joy

Mr. Chas. F. Sengbusch, young Milwaukee Police Officer tells the same story that so many other sick and suffering people tell after using the new modern discovery—Garren's Tonic, which is building up run down people so quickly.

"I had suffered for eighteen months from indigestion and constipation. Gases would form on my stomach after meals, everything that I ate would bloat me, besides I was so dizzy until everything would go black before me. I also had cramps and was so badly constipated until my bowels would not move for three to five days at a time, consequently my work became such a drag to me that I could hardly be civil to any one addressing me.

A friend recommended Garren's Tonic to me and I intend to pass the good news on to others of the wonders it will accomplish. After taking only one bottle I had wonderful relief. My indigestion has left me and I can eat anything I want; am no longer constipated, no more dizzy spells or grouchy feeling since taking Garren's Tonic and it has brought about such a change in me that I can eat, sleep and enjoy myself, where before I had no joy in life whatsoever."

Garren's Tonic is sold in Appleton by the Schintz Bros. Co., in Kaukauna by E. A. Meyer, in Greenville by H. H. Schulze, in Dale by Abends Pharmacy, in Bear Creek by John W. Stettler, in Seymour by S. G. McCord, and by the leading druggists in every city.

OUR TOPHEAVY GOLD RESERVE

We invite the attention of our readers to some of the facts presented by J. H. Taylor, a banker of Green Bay in an address yesterday in that city. Ordinarily the public, while more or less interested in banking and money, does not grasp the full significance of explanations and analysis made by bankers. Banking and finance are a complicated subject and have troubled the minds of the greatest of statesmen and experts. It took the United States, for instance, more than a century to perfect its monetary system.

There are, however, always certain fundamental things about business and banking which the laymen can readily understand when they are presented lucidly. This Mr. Taylor did and it is important that the public should digest the information offered. He pointed out the fact that half the world's gold supply is in the hands of the United States. This tremendous gold reserve of $2,700,000,000 stands against only $2,000,000,000 of currency. When we stop to consider that in ordinary times a reserve of forty per cent is considered ample as against outstanding currency, we see the extent to which the world has been deprived of a basis for sound money circulation by the topheavy reserve concentrated in the United States.

The reason why the German mark is worthless, why the pound sterling is still heavily depreciated and the franc is in the same boat, is because their gold reserves have been depleted or wiped out altogether, and they have no adequate basis on which to predicate currency. We have a conspicuous example of the disastrous consequences of this vanishing gold reserve in the experience of Germany, where she has been forced to put into circulation note issue after note issue bearing no other guarantee than a promise to pay.

The gold reserve of nearly three billion dollars ought to support currency of six billion and give it full face value. How to get this hoarded reserve out of the United States and back into the channels of trade and banking in other countries is a world problem of the first magnitude. Cancellation of war debts is one of the methods proposed to facilitate distribution of this gold reserve and the restoration of credit in Europe, but it does not meet with approval in the United States for obvious reasons. Another proposal is to make a cancellation of 50 per cent. Whether we could make such a concession without weakening our own economic strength unduly is a question. Whether there is any manner in which we can finance Europe with reasonable security is another question. Not until something of the kind is done can trade with Europe resume its normal volume and industry there attain recuperative dimensions.

A world conference is soon to be opened in London to attempt to deal with this problem, and the United States is to be represented. It probably is not too much to hope that this conference will evolve some way out of the difficulty for we are scarcely ready to concede that there are not enough brains and unselfishness in the world to clear up these obstacles and assist Europe back to its feet.

THE SHADOW BEHIND THE THRONE

Appointment of the crown prince as regent of Japan, is said to have been encompassed by the strong military party. The practical succession of the crown prince to the throne was effected because the mikado's mind is weakening. The step is not modern. It resembles the bureaucratic strategy of ancient times or of central Europe. It used to be a custom to do things like this to prevent a revolution, to keep a certain family in power, or to retain control of the throne and the governmental policy for a group of courtiers or politicians.

The military party of Japan is dismayed by the worldwide sentiment for disarmament and peace and the strong feeling among British colonies against renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. As a more or less defensive act the military party conspires to make the regent its leader and the throne its fort. That the intrigue of courts goes "aft-a-glee," as the Scotch maxim says, has been the general experience of kingdoms which have been the toys of partisan groups. If the regent permits the military party to sway him, all the other parties will lean away from him. And the military party is not the majority.

WHY SUFFER?

Inasmuch as you are sure to give presents to relatives and friends at Christmas, you should make your purchases now, when you can do it leisurely and will have the choice. Shrewd buyers not only spare themselves the nervous strain and disappointments of late shopping, but manage to get the best bargains.

The Christmas trade will be large this year. The savings deposits in the banks are greater than a year ago. Employment has increased steadily in the past sixty days. Prices have been cut to the readjustment level. Fundamental business conditions have improved steadily. Evidently, there is larger buying power. Indications point to a big holiday business.

Shoppers should do their buying early. It is so much more sensible and satisfactory. In the closing days it is a nerve-racking experience. Why make holiday shopping a torture? Christmas is only three weeks away. Now is the most advantageous time to shop.

WHERE ARE WE TRAVELING?

The shifting of American women, from the home into business, has reached the point where there is one woman to every four men "earning their own living." This is shown by an analysis of the latest reports covering the census taken in 1920. With a total population of 105,708,771 men, women and children, the United States has 41,609,192 "gainfully employed." Of these, 8,469,207 are women. Housewives are not included among those "gainfully employed."

Early settlers of America made their living with ax, spade, hoe and gun. Time and complex civilization have turned human economies into such an intricate machine that the majority of us have no clear conception of our relation to the whole work. The cog knows that it must click so many times a day. It does not see all the wheels. The face of the watch, with its moving hands, is the combined result of all the wheels. None of us gets a good idea of what the hands are registering. It takes the perspective of centuries to determine just how much the watch is deviating from correct time.

Our system of economics is intricate, yet simple. Think of it in terms of 106 people instead of nearly 106,000,000, and it works like this, in rough figures: Thirteen working in manufacturing industries; eleven growing food and forests; four acting as salesmen; three doing special "personal service;" three keeping records; three providing transportation; two serving as doctors, dentists, lawyers, etc.; one mining and preparing minerals; one in public service. That accounts for 41, "gainfully employed." The rest of the 106 are keeping house, going to school, idling, or segregated under lock and key. Multiply the above figures by 4,000,000 and you have, roughly, figures for our whole population.

Where is it all leading us? If we could come back to America and, say, Appleton, 500 or even 100 years hence, what would life be like? What would be the division of labor? How would we live? Into what new fields would electricity have led us? What would be the achievements of science and invention? What would be the conditions of health? What would be the status of social and spiritual life? To what extent would the intricate economic methods of today be simplified or developed? We cannot of course answer these questions but it seems probable that future civilization will have a system so complicated that the best auditor of 1921 could not grasp its workings. It would be futile to attempt to do so, but it is not futile to attempt to discern the tendencies of modern life and to direct them along certain lines. Are we giving the attention to these great fundamentals that we ought to give, or are we living in a haphazard age in which, while it cannot be said we are exactly drifting, we nevertheless cannot say with certainty and security along just what path we are traveling or to what end?

PLAYING IT SAFE

As I have said before, practically the only way people catch coryza, pharyngitis, tonsillitis, quinsy, diphtheria, laryngitis, bronchitis, influenza, pneumonia or tuberculosis, is by venturing under the five foot barrage of some cougher or sneezer. Beyond the five foot barrage one is comparatively safe from the infectious germ-laden invisible spray given off by a patient in coughing, sneezing, speaking and laughing. United States army medical officers explain the prevalence of pneumonia among soldiers in cantonments in a way quite different from that assumed by some of the personages at Washington. The medical officers state that the floor and air space in the barracks were less than sanitary rules demand and therefore, it was not possible to have five feet of space between heads. Some politicians is to blame for that mistake, of course.

Only the doctor and the nurse need venture under the five foot barrage. All others can transact any necessary business they may have with the patient from a reasonable distance. A visitor, for instance, may stand just as much sympathy—or curiosity—at eight feet as she can at three feet.

Germans have no wings, no feet, no means of locomotion. They go only where they are carried. And it is a safe working rule, that they are not carried beyond the five foot limit. In Durand hospital, Chicago, a variety of contagious diseases are treated, such as meningitis, pneumonia, diphtheria, scarlet fever, etc. No fumigation is used in the hospital, except occasionally for disinfection which cannot be used for washing rooms or for washing the hands of attendants. Soap and water are relied upon for sanitary cleanliness. Bedding and all laundry are sterilized in the autoclave before going to the wash. All waste, dressings, etc., are collected in paper bags and burned. Eating utensils are boiled after each use. Face masks of a double thickness of gauze are worn by doctors and nurses, to protect nose and mouth from possible spray infection. These masks have apparently no end to attacks of tonsillitis, pharyngitis, and rhinitis ("cold in head"), that were relatively frequent among nurses before the masks were adopted.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Great Big Bouncing Boy

1. Is 18½ pounds too much for a boy nine weeks old to weigh? He is breast fed. 2. What causes croup and what is a good remedy? 3. How long should a baby wear the abdominal band? (Mrs. H. S.)
Answer: The average baby weighs 20 pounds when one year old. 2. Spasm of throat muscles induced by some slight inflammation of nose or throat or larynx. Teaspoonful of ipecac syrup, to be repeated after 20 minutes if vomiting has not occurred. Wrap baby up, then open all windows wide to admit cold air. Croup seldom, if ever, develops when the baby sleeps in a well ventilated room. 3. Only long enough to retain the navel dressing in place. When the dressing is no longer necessary, discard the binder. That is, unless you want to raise a mollycoddle.

Other Things for Constipation

Is wheat bran the only remedy you advise for constipation?—(E. M. S.)
Answer: No. It is only one remedy, but it is a good one, for it does good and never does any harm. Other remedies are regular habit in attending to the wee small impulse at the regular time, normally soon after each meal. And these items in the diet: Figs, fruits with seeds, skins of potatoes (baked), whole corn, whole wheat bread or graham bread, oatmeal cooked not over 20 minutes, prunes, honey, olive oil, vegetable salads, all greens, apples, pears, pineapples, squash, turnip, carrots, parsnips, raw cabbage (salad) lettuce, celery, oranges, grapefruit, spinach, tomatoes, chard, etc.

Grip or Gripe, Not a Specific Disease

Is grip, or gripe, caused by a germ? Is the germ inhaled in the air in the winter time? Is the air laden with disease germs, in certain kinds of weather?—(C. F. A.)

Answer: So-called grip, or la gripe, is a kind of general and fashionable title which has displaced the older and vulgar title of "cold" and quite as indefinite. Persons having "gripe" have various infections, usually a streptococcus infection, and only rarely the bacillus of influenza. Of course germs are not inhaled in the air, and the air is not laden with disease germs at any time, excepting within the five foot barrage of an open-faced sneezer coughing or talking or laughing who harbors infection in nose or throat. The notion that disease germs float invisibly in the air (excepting in the invisible spray given off as just explained and traveling not beyond five feet from the patient's face) was an old theory, but has been definitely disproved by careful scientific test.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Friday, Dec. 4, 1896

H. D. Smith returned from a week's business trip to Chicago and Milwaukee.

John T. Ustick of Chicago called on local paper manufacturers.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tubbs of Seymour the previous Tuesday.

John Behnke formerly with Rudolph Schwartz, the clothier, had taken a position in Joseph Spitz's clothing store.

Senator-elect A. B. Whitman and Assemblymen Wolter and Clark went to Madison to secure quarters for the coming session of the legislature.

C. L. Stevens of Jefferson was here to buy some Holstein cattle from F. E. Harriman, not knowing of the recent fire in which the latter's valuable herd of thoroughbreds was totally destroyed.

The new workhouse was to be ready for occupancy by Dec. 15 and Julius Kuehn of Kaukauna was to be in charge as superintendent.

At a meeting of the Crimison club arrangements were made for a series of four parties. The Arion orchestra of Oshkosh was engaged for the series.

New officers of the Appleton Encampment No. 16, I. O. O. F. were: Chief patriarch, John Bonini; senior warden, Al. Pynch; high priest, Henry W. Peterson; scribe, James Monroe; treasurer, F. B. Voigt; junior warden, Frank Kurz.

The plans for the revival of the Pidalatban Bar association of Lawrence university were nearly completed. A feature of the organization was to be a monthly trial.

Making Pearls Cheap

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—The true pearl, formed by the wild oyster, is having a hard time competing with less valuable imitations. First, the Japanese produced a cultured pearl that differs from a true pearl only in one respect. In the wild oyster, the pearl is the result of an irritation, generally a bit of sand or a parasitic worm, which accidentally gets inside the shell. In the cultured pearl, the irritating substance is implanted.

After years of experiment a Japanese succeeded in so introducing this irritant that the patient oyster would build as perfect a pearl round it as if the irritant had accidentally slipped in.

This has raised the question: Is a cultured pearl of this sort entitled to the same distinction as the wild pearl? Are pearls grown on a farm like so many berries and harvested when ripe to be compared with the pearl for which the diver risks his life in shark infested waters? Gem dealers, gathered recently in London, shouted no.

Because the ingenuity of a Japanese scientist led him to produce pearls by putting oysters to work on a farm, he was none-the-less a manufacturer, they claimed. It was agreed that the true pearl is the work of nature unassisted and that pearling should remain a business of hazard and not a truck-farm process.

The meeting decided that while cultured pearls might look just like true pearls—which not all the experts would admit—still, they were not to be officially regarded as true pearls. French dealers went home and issued a warning in a French paper, that merchants selling cultured pearls under the title of "fine pearls" would be liable to prosecution for fraud. That was supposed to make the world safe for the wild pearl.

Glass Pearls

But now word comes from Germany that a jewel expert of Thuringia has attained a new standard in manufacture of synthetic pearls from blown glass. It is claimed that experts are put to it to distinguish these imitations from true pearls.

There is no fine distinction to be settled regarding the status of this German pearl. It is an imitation and claims to be nothing else. But if it is so good that all but experts are deceived and if it can be sold for one-fifth the price of other imitation pearls, as the maker announces, may there not be a demand for this cheap article to the detriment of trade in other pearls, both real and imitation? Dealers fear that there may. So the pearl business is still disturbed.

The German pearl maker, Herr Heinz, is known as an expert in imitation gems. He used to claim that he could produce a beautiful imitation of any gem except the pearl. That, he said, was the most difficult to imitate, but still he experimented with formulas, until at last he has hit upon a satisfactory one. His formula is reported as a mixture of fish line, wax, and silver nitrate in molten glass.

Blown glass pearls are far from new. A preparation made from the scales of the bleak fish has long been used to coat the inside surface of glass to make pearl beads. The fish skin substance contains brilliant colors and gives to the glass the creamy, opalescent tint of the pearl.

Wax is generally used to fill the hollow inside the glass bead to make it resemble the solid structure of a pearl. But the surface has a glossy shine, and the bead is slightly lighter in weight than a real pearl. Glass beads have, therefore, always been

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

Briand's Plea for France

Premier Briand, it is generally conceded, played his brief part in the Armament Conference chiefly for the purpose of pleading the cause of France by his inimitable oratory. He has spoken and gone leaving behind him a multitude of readers and commentators who are coming out of the spell of sympathy he cast to appraise his address both in support and in disapprobation. The position of France as declared by her representative, that without substantial and positive guarantees from her friends she must be adequately armed against her enemies, is regarded by many American papers as so clearly right that she should not be called upon to defend it. Some go so far as to say that the size of the French army is no one's affair but France's. This group of writers coincides, entirely with Briand's view of the menace of Germany, and upholds France in her methods of meeting it. Other writers retain their opinion that "moral disarmament" could find an abundant field for cultivation at home.

"M. Briand's noble vindication of the morality of France is not only intellectually convincing, it stirs deep emotion," but the NEW YORK TRIBUNE (Rep.) feels "a sense of shame" that "France, with her shining record," should thus be forced to defend herself against aspersion. In a French paper, the French Premier has presented "the apology of France" to the world, and though he spoke in America, the NEW YORK TIMES (Ind. Dem.) thinks it was "not to meet an American accusation. He was really addressing himself to his European neighbors and to the considerate judgment of other parts of the world." Although the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.) was none the less an admirably effective method for assuring nation-wide dissemination of the facts which constitute the most effective French propaganda.

France is worse off today "than she has been at any time in fifty years," the DENVER ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS (Ind. States), the Frenchman has been turned into enemies and she has now to take their places." And while the CHICAGO POST (Ind.) admits that "there can be no doubt that France, with her large army and her position of chief warder of Germany, seems to stand in opposition to the peaceful current of the times" that position "is not primarily due to her self, but to Germany." We cannot be surprised says the PHILADELPHIA RECORD (Ind. Dem.) "if Germany looks less pacific to France than it does to us." It is still destined to a menace, according to the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL (Ind.), "still in the grip of the old militarist crowd." France "is required by the unfulfilled ambition of her neighbor to protect herself." In spite of this condition, France has already made what the SCRANTON TIMES (Dem.) calls "a splendid start toward land disarmament" and further than this her Premier declares she cannot go without the support of other nations. Thus the FLORIDA METROPOLIS (Jacksonville, Dem.) pictures her as holding "international ideals in one hand" and the other national experience, and these two must be balanced before limitation of land armaments can be accomplished.

"But if France 'knew that she did not stand alone' the CHARLESTON NEWS AND COURIER (Dem.) is sure that 'the whole situation would be altered instantly.' In spirit of this condition, the NEW YORK GLOBE (Ind.) that to correct the condition it is only necessary for 'the United States and England to agree to help defend France against external aggression.'

Too Clean

The ancient people had a warning cry of "Unclean, unclean" whenever an unfortunate victim of leprosy approached. Today, a New Zealand woman has put a "reverse English" on the procedure by crying "Too clean, too clean" of her husband's idiosyncrasies, and asking a divorce, according to the correspondent of the LONDON EXPRESS. She alleges persistent cruelty by underlining her nerves because, she alleges, her husband, a barber, has a monomania for washing his hands. When he rode a bicycle, the grass must be washed in paper which had not been touched on paper inside. He would use a handkerchief only once and then throw it down. He would use his towels only twice, once on each side. If anything fell to the floor it had to be washed or scalded. Despite these patience-trying habits, however, the court found no case of persistent cruelty, and dismissed the effort to secure the divorce.

The original certificate ascribes Harp's death to "bullet wound." The copy of this certificate, which was received from the township of Winter, Sawyer county, where Harp died, gives the cause as "bullet wound by unknown causing instant death." The time of death was given as 11 a. m., Oct. 8, 1919.

FAIL TO REACH 1920
ROLL CALL RECORD

Kaukauna Red Cross Needs More Money to Carry on Work Next Year

Kaukauna—Kaukauna did not come up to its last year's record in the Red Cross roll call recently completed according to a report Thursday afternoon. Two hundred nineteen memberships were secured. However, no canvass from house to house was made as was done last year which accounts for the slump in renewals of Red Cross memberships. The drive was pushed only to the extent that booths were placed in each of the postoffices.

The south side booth reported 133 renewed Red Cross memberships while on the north side only 86 subscriptions were secured. Since half of the money collected goes to central division office of the Red Cross it is apparent the local organization cannot carry on its work to any great extent unless some means of raising more money is found. No report has been received of the money realized at the benefit lecture last Monday evening.

FINE SCHOOL RECORD

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Sals to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of disease, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Sals from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous sals is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Sals cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

BOARD MEMBERS CUT BUDGET TO COME WITHIN LAW

Large Sums are Bared from Road Appropriations at Final Meeting

Appropriations for highway purposes for the coming season were brought within the law at the final meeting of the county board Friday afternoon by reducing the $50,642 appropriation for the Seymour-Appleton road, to $12,000; the appropriation for the Greenville-Shiocton rd. from $50,000 to $24,000; and by eliminating the $40,000 appropriation for the Bear Creek-New London rd. An unsuccessful attempt was

Jail Awaiting Trial

Palmer Acheson who claims to be 19 years of age and a resident of Greenville is under arrest at Wausau for the theft of an automobile from C. F. Schultz, a Neenah druggist. The arrest occurred at Stevens Point when persons living in the vicinity of Acheson's vulcanizing and gasoline filling station notified police officers that Acheson had a car in his possession that answered to the description of the car stolen at Neenah. When the police arrived they found Acheson working on the car which was partly filled with many of his be-

Culbertson Would Have County Build Its Road By 'Day Labor' Method

Medina Supervisor Has Suggestion for Saving in Cost of Road Building But County Board is Skeptical.

Supervisor H. M. Culbertson of Medina started what he had in mind, a thorough discussion, when just before the adjournment of the county board Thursday afternoon he said:

Mr. Chairman, I move you that the county, state road and bridge committee and the county highway commissioner be requested by the county board to proceed with the preliminary arrangements and construct by day labor the cement road ordered north of the city of Seymour."

The supervisor said he did not care to give his reasons, that it was merely a suggestion and he presented it for what it was worth.

John Tracy was the first to take the floor and said he would like the sentiment of the board as for himself he did not think it would have any standing.

LOOKS EXPENSIVE
It looked like an expensive proposition to George F. Fiedler because the county had no equipment. He was of the opinion that the law required the work to be let to the lowest bidder and asked for the opinion of the district attorney.

"The idea is this," said Mr. Culbertson "Winnebago-co. has done this. We have heard reports circulated throughout the county that they saved several thousand dollars.

"I am of the opinion that it would be good policy for this county to experiment with a mile of the road and find out whether we are paying too much or not. I differ with the supervisor from Seymour that it would cost more."

J. J. Werner said the day labor proposition was considered at the road school at Medina last winter and it was brought out Winnebago-co. saved $28,000 on four miles of road and that other counties saved from $2,000 to $4,000 on certain projects by purchasing the material and doing the work themselves, but none of the highway commissioners recommended this mode of procedure.

WAS DISCUSSED HERE
"This matter was up two or three times as to the advisability of doing this work by day labor," said John Diderich, chairman of the county, state road and bridge committee, "but it revolved upon the fact that we had to buy expensive equipment. It was a question whether the county would save very much by carrying the overhead needed. We would like to get the opinion of the county trying this plan for a period of two or three years. The county that goes into that will carry an expensive burden."

Anton Jansen said it would not be necessary for the county to purchase any machinery. He related an instance at his home village, Little Chute, where the contract for a sewer was awarded to a man who had no tools or machinery, but he had no trouble in renting them. He did not think the county would have any trouble in renting machinery contractors were not using.

Chairman D. J. Ryan said the board was not in position to dictate to the highway committee and ruled against Mr. Culbertson.

H. S. ORCHESTRA IS IN NEED OF MORE PLAYERS

The student orchestra of the high school is in need of more members and instruments. An urgent appeal has been made by Prof. J. Heible, orchestra director. The following pieces are needed: First and second violins, flute, clarinet, cello or viola and bass horns.

Vaudeville Program
The Acabax Three, tumblers, said to be among the best in the county, headline the vaudeville bill at Appleton theatre this week. Other numbers are Zenita, dancing violinists; Rauline and Addington, comedians; Dancing Browning, eccentric dancer.

REAL ESTATE MEN PLAN FOR STATE CONVENTION

To decide on definite plans and to make arrangements for the next annual convention of the Wisconsin Real Estate Board to be held in Eau Claire Feb. 14, 15 and 16, a meeting of the executive committee of the state board will be called in Milwaukee Dec. 8. The meeting was called by Daniel P. Steinberg, state president.

Among the committees called to meet in Milwaukee is the program committee consisting of Ben P. Paast, chairman, Eau Claire; Paul E. Stark, Madison, W. H. Hardy, Jr., Waukegan; M. H. Segnitz, Milwaukee; W. E. Webster, Hudson.

made to eliminate the $50,000 appropriation for the Seymour-Appleton rd.

Supervisor John Tracy moved that the $75,000 appropriation for general county purpose be reduced to $70,000. This was protested by members of the county, state road and bridge committee. George F. Fiedler said the appropriation was none too large to cover current expenses and if that amount was not needed the committee would have recommended a smaller sum. Mr. Tracy suggested the county could easily borrow money at the April session if $70,000 was not enough but Supervisor McElone did not like the idea of paying a high rate of interest. The vote was 20 to 8 in favor of making no reduction.

BUY TOOL HOUSE SITE

A resolution concerning the purchase of a site and the building of a tool house and garage was debated at length. Some of the supervisors favored building it at the county asylum where there would be no expense for a site, but this met with opposition because of inconvenience. A site in the vicinity of the corner of Second-ave. and Richmond-st. was suggested by a member of the highway committee at a previous session. The resolution was adopted by a vote of 37 to 4.

BOOST SHERIFF'S PAY

Attorney J. L. Johns addressed the board relative to the salary of Sheriff P. G. Schwartz whom he represented. He said that official had withdrawn all claims against the county upon the advice of his firm and recommended that in order to avoid future misunderstanding that his salary remain at $4,000 per year but that he be allowed his expenses for all work outside of the county and be permitted to retain fees for all civil work within the county. Judge Spencer favored Mr. Johns' recommendations. A resolution carrying out Attorney Johns' suggestions was adopted.

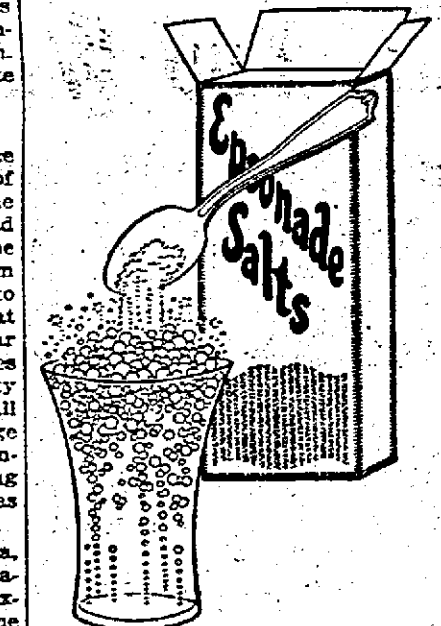

Louis F. Nelson of Kaukauna, whose term as trustee of the Outagamie county training school had expired was unanimously reelected. The report of the committee on illegal taxes was adopted. Upon the suggestion of Supervisor Anton Jensen, Supervisors Diderich and Balhorn, retiring members of the county, state road and bridge committee, were given a rising vote of thanks for the services they had rendered.

longings as if a long trip was planned. Surprised by the authorities Acheson showed fight and threatened the officers with a gun, the property of Mr. Schultz which was in the car at the time of the theft as he was returning from a deer hunting expedition. The gun was knocked from his hand, however. Mr. Schultz was notified of the recovery of his car and returned it to Neenah.

A few weeks ago Acheson was acquitted by a jury in the municipal court at Oshkosh of a charge of stealing a Buick car owned by Edwin Fresse of Neenah. The car was recovered at Stevens Point, but Acheson contended that he had purchased the machine from another man and inasmuch as the evidence against him was mostly circumstantial he was adjudged not guilty.

THE LITTLE BROTHERS OF THE NATION

There is no phase of the achievements of our government more creditable to us than that dealing with the acquirement and handling of our outlying possessions.

A foreigner speaking of the United States colonization work says: "There never was a colonizing power which set out so fast to teach and educate the native races with which it came in contact. One great fact in development which citizens of the United States understand is that money spent on essentials is bound to pay itself back."

An interesting account of our insular and other outlying possessions is given in the latest booklet of the series on Our Government being issued monthly by this Institution. Are you receiving them?

NO NEED EXISTS HERE FOR BUREAU OF UNEMPLOYMENT

City is Providing Work for Men on Streets—Situation is Good

Solution of unemployment through establishment of a municipally supervised employment office is urged by Arthur Woods, of the president's conference on unemployment, in a communication received by Mayor J. A. Hawes from Washington.

It is hardly possible that the expense and work connected with such a move will be incurred here with the situation as favorable as it is now. Almost everybody appears to be employed providing he wishes work and there is little known hardship. Industrial conditions gradually are improving and the summer's construction program is continuing on almost an equal scale into the winter.

Complete plans for establishment of an employment office where jobless workers may be cared for are contained in a report accompanying the Washington letter to Mayor Hawes. These will be preserved and should a need present itself the city administration will not hesitate to take necessary measures to give relief to laboring people.

HOURLY SERVICE ON NEENAH-OSHKOSH LINE

A change of time in the schedule of the Eastern Wisconsin Electric company which operates the electric line between Neenah and Oshkosh was made effective last Sunday. The running time between Oshkosh and Neenah was reduced five minutes. Hourly service will be maintained between the two cities from 7 a. m. and 9 a. m. "A car your way every hour in the day" is the new slogan of the company.

Interurban cars will leave Neenah for Oshkosh on the hour instead of five minutes after the hour, according to the new schedule. Cars will arrive at their destination 45 minutes after the hour instead of 55 minutes after as five minutes will be clipped by reducing the running time.

Success of Advertising Built on Confidence, Ad Club
Members are Told

Necessity of maintaining public confidence in advertising was emphasized by H. E. Young of Gloucestrian-Gage Co. in his address before the Appleton Advertising club following a luncheon in the French room of the Sherman house Tuesday noon. Mr. Young said that Appleton people have confidence in advertising because that confidence had not been abused over many years and that it is essential to the success of business and advertising that this confidence be built up.

Mr. Young also described holiday advertising, discussing its appeal and effectiveness.

The advertising club was complimented on its vigilance work by George Clippert, a member of the St. Paul Town Criers, an advertising organization, who was a guest at the luncheon. The club is making an effort to prevent false advertising. The club also was complimented on the enthusiasm which it is displaying. Following the regular program, J. D. Steele of the Pettibone-Peabody Co., speaking as a merchant, congratulated the club on its work and expressed the appreciation of the merchants for the work the club is doing.

FARMERS SHOWING INTEREST IN ANTI- LEAGUE TALK HERE

Politics Will be Avoided in Forum
Discuss of Nonpartisan Movement

Farmers all over the county are showing great interest in Dr. H. Garfield Walker, noted North Dakota minister, who will speak on the Nonpartisan League before the People's Forum in Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday evening. Farmers followed the recent campaign in North Dakota with considerable interest and they are eager to see the man who played so important a part in forcing league officials from state offices.

The meeting is to begin promptly at 7:30 so that the speaker can begin talking at 8 o'clock. A musical program arranged by Dean Carl J. Waterman of Lawrence conservatory will precede the address. A silver collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Dr. Walker's address, in a way, will be a reply to the talk by Lieut. Gov. George F. Comings last Sunday evening. Mr. Comings, an ardent supporter of the league, discussed its problems and its history from a viewpoint favorable to the league. Dr. Walker will take the other side and will point out its weaknesses and defects. The two addresses offer a splendid educational opportunity to Outagamie and Appleton people.

The forum committee has striven to keep politics out of the discussions. Mr. Comings' address was not political in nature and Dr. Walker will avoid politics in his talk. All of the forum addresses are to be educational in nature.

Attendance at the meetings has been gratifying, indicating an interest in the program. Other cities this year are copying the Appleton method of providing Sunday evening entertainment and education, thereby proving that this city is among the leaders in this excellent movement.

COMMITTEE PLANS TO BOOST VALLEY

Tentative plans for a campaign to advertise the Fox river valley to the rest of the country were discussed at a meeting of a special committee appointed for that purpose at the chamber of commerce Thursday afternoon. The committee has been instructed to prepare a plan to be presented at a joint meeting of chambers of commerce of the entire valley which is to be called when a plan for advertising has been worked out.

It is proposed to have the preliminary work completed in a few weeks so that the real advertising campaign can be started shortly after the first of the year.

IRELAND ABLE TO SUPPORT HERSELF, COLLINS BELIEVES

Irish Minister of Finance, Tells Plans of Sinn Fein "Republic"

(Copyright, 1921, N. E. A. Service) London—Of the big Irish three, DeValera, Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins, only the latter has never before been interviewed.

I had a long talk with the dark haired, dark-eyed, boyish, 30-year-old leader of the republican army and Irish minister of finance. He refused to discuss, for publication, the wonderful story of his manifold escapes, during the past two years, from the entire British police and military outfit.

I asked whether free Ireland would be financially self-supporting. Collins replied:

"Ireland is more than financially self-supporting. At present she makes an annual contribution to the English imperial expenditure, the amount, according to English treasury returns, being some £1,000,000 pounds.

"Even this doesn't indicate the full amount paid by us, as there are many services on which money is spent in Ireland designated by the English as Irish services, but which are clearly charges arising in connection with imperial purposes.

"All are agreed that Ireland can support herself financially and even England admits this by expecting contributions over and above our own internal necessities."

Without entering upon controversial topics and without prejudice to the progress of the present negotiations, I asked if free Ireland, without Ulster, would be financially self-supporting.

"I am afraid I will have to point out a vital error you have fallen into," Collins replied. "You mention Ulster. It is not Ulster that is in question; it is just a portion of Ulster.

"Without the part of Ireland which is unfriendly to the common nationality, the rest of Ireland would be absolutely self-supporting.

Asked what, in his view, were the great public works that free Ireland would necessarily have to undertake at once, Collins replied:

"I would like to make one point before I reply directly: that is that with reduction in taxation under an Irish government, there would be large amounts of private money available for public purposes, and there would consequently be less necessity on the part of the Irish government to expend funds on public works.

"But apart from this I fully realize that there are public works which no private enterprise could undertake and which, in fact, no government would allow a private enterprise to undertake.

An Irish government would, in my estimation, embark immediately on three main enterprises.

First: Reclamation of land and drainage of great tracts of country, for instance, drainage of the Barrow Basin and the Midlands.

Second: The housing and health of the people.

Third: The continuance and development of land purchase."

WANTS POWER TO REVISE TARIFF

Washington—President Harding may shortly ask congress to authorize him to revise tariff rates by executive order as an emergency relief from the measure for American business.

Harding is considering this in connection with his message to congress next Tuesday. The message will deal emphatically with the need for immediate tariff legislation to pull American business out of its present depression.

SEE COMPROMISE IN NEW IRISH PLAN

Will Jointly Administer National Services—Have All Else Separate

By United Press Leased Wire London—The new Irish peace plan of Premier Lloyd George, considered the one hope for further negotiations between the contending parties, is believed to embody a suggestion that the north and south of Ireland jointly administer their national services.

The plan provides, however, for complete separation on every other question, it is said.

This it is believed, might sweep rule of the Sinn Fein majority. Under the new plan, Sinn Fein would hold aside the objections so far placed in the path of a settlement. Ulster has declared it will not be subjected to the only "national service" power over Ulster, allowing the northerners every other governmental right.

Have You Piles

Then You Have Something To Learn.

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a simple, harmless preparation that lowers bowels and weakens of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Schults Bros. Co. Appleton, Wis. today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails. adv.

PUSH DAIRYING IN WESTERN FARMING

Special to The Post-Crescent Minnareck, N. D.—Good farms for $10 to $20 an acre.

This situation exists in southwestern Montana. And with these prices a prospective farmer can purchase a good horse for $10 to $15, a cow for $15 to $20, a binder for $10. Other farm machinery and stock is offered in proportion.

These sections of the two states, containing fertile soil, have been hit by unusual lack of moisture in the last five years. With a wheat crop failure this year and a great drop in agricultural values, many farmers are leaving the country.

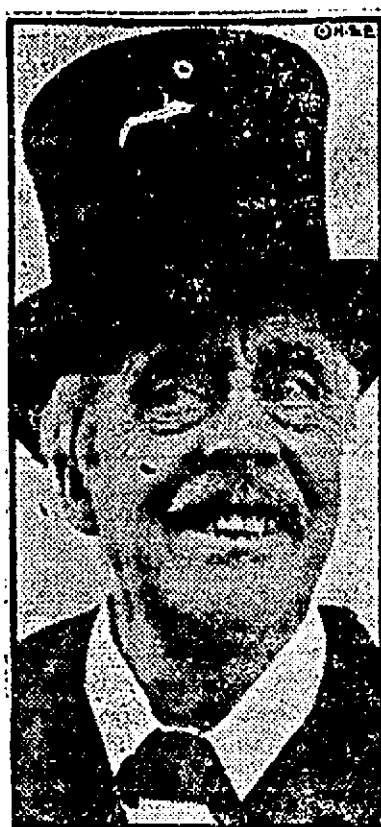

But not all farmers. In one section, some years ago, a few farmers decided to quit wheat farming. They bought milk cows, going into purebred Holsteins as quickly as they could. They put up silos and began raising corn. All have prospered.

Their experience is being held up to the farmers of western North Dakota and eastern Montana by agricultural experts, who are making a great drive to convert this into a dairy country.

Their opening wedge in talking to a farmer is: "Of all North America the buffalo chose North Dakota as a feeding ground."

But many farmers do not care for dairying. So they are moving out.

PROPOSE LAW TO STOP LYNCHINGS

Special to The Post-Crescent New York—Statistics have been compiled to show that during 19 months of this year, 52 persons were lynched in the United States. Four were white, 48 were negroes. One was a woman.

Last year 65 were lynched, including 8 white persons and 1 woman. There were 35 lynchings in 1919, including 5 white persons and 1 woman. In 1918 there were 67 lynchings, 4 of the victims being white.

"We cannot claim to be civilized," says Congressman L. C. Dyer of St. Louis, "until our citizens are secured against the hideous cruelties of which we are constantly furnishing fresh examples."

Congressman Dyer is author of the anti-lynching bill, introduced last April. In October it was favorably reported by the judiciary committee.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is backing the bill. It is heralded as the only club that can curb lynching.

PENALTIES IN BILL. These are the penalties for lynching prescribed by the Dyer bill:

Imprisonment for from five years to life for any member of a mob that puts to death any guilty or innocent person.

Five years in prison or $5000 fine, or both, for any state or municipal officer who neglects to protect a prisoner from mob violence.

Forfeiture of $10,000 by any county in which a person is lynched; the Special to The Post-Crescent London—Here's a tip for congress: Parliament can punish refractory members by imprisoning them in a little room under the famous Parliament House clock, "Big Ben." And money to be given to the victim's family or dependents, or in lieu of them paid into the United States treasury. Radical national legislation is necessary, proponents of the bill argue, because states have failed to stop lynchings.

Mob violence is called the "common shame" of America by the National Association. Statistics of lynchings have been kept for 33 years. From 1889 to Nov. 1, 1921, there have been 5,422 lynchings in the United States!

Seventy-nine per cent of the victims were negroes. There were 2,703 negroes and 720 white persons.

"More than a year ago I took a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy for gall stones, severe colic and stomach trouble and have been entirely well ever since. I have recommended it to many other stomach sufferers, as I felt it was my duty to tell them just how much good it has done me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. During the year ending June 30, 1921, the state treasurer received $3,650,029 for licenses on automobiles, trucks and motorcycles. From this amount is subtracted $147,186.22 for expenses of the secretary of state in administering the law, leaving a balance of $3,502,842.78 for state and county highways. Seventy-five per cent of this amount is apportioned to the Wisconsin Highway commission for general administration, federal aid construction and to counties for maintenance of the state trunk highway system. The 25 per cent allotted to the counties amounts to $875,710.70.

A. G. Brusewitz said that if the public realized the money spent on highways came directly from those who own motor vehicles they would show more cooperation with the builders out on the road and do all they can to help them make roads under construction safer for traffic.

The Woman Who Knows at CHRISTMAS TIME

DON'T you know, when it comes to shopping, a woman is in her own peculiar field. She is intent on seeing, on learning, on selecting. A man buys on the helter-skelter plan. He picks out in a hurry, has it wrapped up, and if he gets full value he is most lucky. Women select carefully with an intuition of what is what, and a skill in selecting what she wants. She is an observer of style, a critic of what others wear, a connoisseur of values. She knows materials by name, recognizes trimmings and can spot real values. She can tell elegancies of matchings and knows what will look well on her and harmonize with her stature and profile. That's why we are eager to have the knowing women come here to shop. They will find in this "Quality Shop" their ideal as to selection, variety, perfection and value.

Often the letters from lovers are more interesting than any answer which can be devised. Most absorbing of all are those tales of love which are hopeless for some reason. For example, his truly pathetic record of faithfulness—why did a man, so keen to marry, desert the girl who adored him?

"A man several years older than I came to our town. He began at once to go with me, seeing me three or four times a week, and went with no other girl."

"We seemed to understand each other perfectly. And soon became engaged."

"He went to my parents and asked for my hand. His frankness delighted them. He seemed honest in every way. We planned a happy future and the details of our home. All the while he impressed me as absolutely devoted. I was more than happy."

"After our engagement, he made a confession. I've never seen a man so moved as he was when he told me that he had been divorced and that his wife was living. He said that he couldn't marry me until he had told the truth, although he had been afraid to do so."

"His story hurt me terribly, but I knew that in spite of his former marriage I loved him devotedly and that I never could give him up."

"Afterward our happiness seemed doubled by the test. He was almost abjectly grateful for my trust in him. Everything was going smoothly on our wedding plans when the crash came."

"One day he implored me several times to marry him that very afternoon. I put him off—told him to wait ten days or two weeks."

"He left, embracing me tenderly as usual. He made no complaint. I never have seen him since."

"I don't know what to do. Forget him? Wait for him? Hate him because he deserted me? If he lied about his love for me, my heart is broken.—B. M. G."

Almost one feels sorry for the man who could abandon the little lady who writes the above.

This older woman, however, is quick to be suspicious and will probably surmise at once that there was something wrong in that story of divorce. Perhaps the suit was in progress and the decree was not granted. Then in a moment of emotional explosion, the man asked the girl to wait him immediately. Delay brought calmness but no way out except a confession, which was too great an ordeal for his particular temperament. There was no more to be said.

The little lesson in this is for parents and guardians of girls.

There are always ways of ascertaining the facts in the past of the man who comes a-wooing a precious daughter. The father only needs to use the same methods he would use when investigating the status of a man seeking employment.

Holiday Menus

December 24 means more to the people of Italy than does December 25. As in France New Year's day is celebrated more than Christmas.

The day before Christmas is a fast day, but the fast is of a special kind. Christmas Eve is celebrated with the eating of fish. And of all varieties eels are considered the proper fish of the day. The most desirable way to cook the eels is to fry them in deep sweet oil. Macaroni is served with the fish and a special kind of Christmas pastry.

MACARONI
One-half pound macaroni, 12 olives, 2 red peppers, 2 onions, salt and pepper.

Boil macaroni without breaking the sticks until tender. To do this, put ends of macaroni in boiling water and as the sticks soften cut them down into the water. Drain and blanch. Arrange on a platter and sprinkle with chopped olives, shredded peppers and sliced onions which have been fried in sweet oil. Season highly with salt and paprika.

CHRISTMAS PASTRY
Two and one-half cups flour, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter, 1 cup blanched and chopped almonds, 6 eggs (yolks), 1 lemon, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Found almonds to smooth paste, moistening with a little water to prevent clogging. Add flour, sugar, butter, grated rind of lemon and salt. Mix well and stir in the yolks of the eggs. Work to a smooth paste, let stand in a cool place for an hour and a half. Then turn out on a floured molding board and roll about 1/4 inch thick. Cut in fancy shapes such as birds and animals, dolls and Christmas trees and fry in deep hot sweet oil. Drain on brown paper.

ALMONDS AND SUGAR
Another Italian Christmas sweet is made with almonds and sugar. The almonds are blanched and chopped and dropped into sirup cooked to a pale straw color. With a teaspoon drop a cluster of nuts onto a marble slab to harden.

On New Year's day the big dinner is served. Chicken or goose is roasted without a stuffing. If chestnuts are used they are served as a vegetable.

All the dishes are very highly seasoned and cheese finds a place in most of them. Many fruits and nuts are served.

A typical menu is about like this:

Venetian Soup
Turbot "A la Italian"
Roast Pheasant
Celery Fritters
Spinach Souffle
Artichokes "A la Milanaise"
Italian Pudding
Nuts
Cheese
Waters
Fruit
Coffee

The Venetian soup is a very rich beef broth, mixed with beaten egg yolks and lemon juice and served with thinly cut slices of French rolls crisped in a hot oven.

The turbot is served with a rich sauce and garnished with mushrooms, prawns and truffles.

The pheasant is roasted before the fire and served with macaroni and cheese with a rich sauce.

ARTICHOKE "A LA MILANAISE"
One artichoke for each person, Parmesan cheese, butter.

Remove stalks and hard leaves from artichokes. Put in slightly salted boiling water and simmer until half done. Drain. Arrange in a baking dish in one layer, pour over oiled butter, sprinkle liberally with grated cheese and cover closely. Cook in a slow oven till tender and serve with oiled butter.

ITALIAN PUDDING
One-fourth cup cake crumbs, 1/2 cup bread crumbs, 6 macarons, 1 ounce shredded candied orange peel, 2 tablespoons sultana raisins, 3 tablespoons shredded pistachio nuts, yolks 5 eggs, whites 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Found macarons. Mix dry ingredients and stir in eggs and lemon juice. Mix well and turn into a well buttered mold. Steam an hour and fifteen minutes. Serve with custard sauce made with the yolks of two eggs and 2 cups milk and 1/2 cup sugar.

Adventures of the Twins

Gene Zerkow Boston

TUBBY WON'T MOVE
All the badges and sticks and fairy policemen and Twins and Magic Green Shoes in the world didn't bother Tubby Terrapin a bit as he lay flat on his stomach on the bottom of the sea. There he was and there he was going to stay, right in everybody's road. He looked like a large brown rock as he lay there with his head and his feet and his tail all tucked inside his shell.

Nancy and Nick climbed up on top of him and sat down. "He isn't doing so very much harm, is he?" asked Nick. Finally, "The fishes can swim over top of him."

Cap'n Pennwinkle grunted. "I'm not worrying about what's over him," he replied. "It's what's under him that's on my mind. The old fellow is lying on quite a few of the dwellers of the Land of Wiggles. Spiky Starfish, Crawly Crab and several

Oysters. They'll be smashed flat." "Curly, the sea-horse, spoke up. "I know something. Cap'n Pennwinkle," said he. "There's a fisherman's net spread out in the bay over yonder. If he could get it over here and wrap a corner of it around—"

He got no further for Captain Pennwinkle jumped and slapped his knee. "Curly, you're as smart as pop-corn! That is certainly a fine idea! Nick, Nancy, do you want to do an errand for me?"

The Twins slid down from their seat on Mr. Terrapin's back and declared that they were ready. "Then," said Cap'n Pennwinkle, "each of you get hold of a corner of Mr. Fisherman's net and bring it here to me. This old fellow, who insists on sitting here like a bump on a log, will have to be taught a lesson, and there is no use wasting any time about it. The sooner the quicker!"

HILL THROWS VAN WURDEN TWICE IN LESS THAN HOUR

Oshkosh Grappler is No Match for Local Man—Hill in Fine Shape

Carl Van Wurden, the "Flying Dutchman," bit the dust twice in less than an hour in his handspunch match with George Hill in Oshkosh Thursday night. Hill had agreed to throw the Oshkosh grappler twice in 60 minutes and he more than made good his promise.

Hill won the first fall in 25 minutes with a hammer lock and took the second in a little less than 15 minutes with the same kind of a hold. Van Wurden never had a chance although he tried hard.

The local grappler had things his own way from the start toying with the Oshkosh man. He applied several punishing holds but did not exert sufficient pressure to hurt his opponent.

Hill appears to be in the best condition of his career. He has been working hard for the bout with Buck Weaver here next Wednesday night. His bout with Van Wurden really was a splendid workout for the bigger match next week.

Fans here are showing more interest in the wrestling game and the advance ticket sale indicates a large crowd next Wednesday night.

FOUL RULE MAKES BASKETBALL SLOW, COACHES DECLARE

Basketball Not as Popular as it Should Be Because of Rules

By Billy Evans

Is basketball as popular a game as it should be?

Recently I put that question to a number of the country's leading coaches.

The answer in every case was the same, basketball had not achieved the popularity favor that it deserved.

I asked each coach for his reason for so thinking. Once again the opinion was unanimous, "the foul rule is all wrong."

The life and popularity of any sport is largely determined by the action it contains. It is action that thrills the spectators. Basketball has plenty of action when the referee or umpire isn't busy calling fouls. In most of the games I have seen in the last two or three years, the officials have been the most active individuals on the floor.

FREE THROWS TOO FREQUENT
Too many basketball games are won on free throws. Such a result leaves the same taste as having an umpire score the winning run in a ball game by calling a balk. It is too tame a finish for an exciting game.

To illustrate my point, take the eastern college championship of last year. Penn won the championship, yet in four of its ten games it was outscored from the field and in two other games held to a tie score from the field. Penn won the championship because it had a clever man at throwing fouls.

That has been the chief fault of basketball for years, too much stress being laid on the foul. Since all coaches and experts are agreed that the foul rule needs revision, it seems certain that some action will be taken at the next meeting of the rules committee.

Changes in Scoring
Here are some of the suggestions that will tend to take away some of the importance that is now attached to the throwing of fouls. As a matter of fact, basketball as now played is a game of specialists, in which the expert on the throwing of baskets from the foul line is featured.

1. Award a point or a half point for every foul called against an opponent.

2. Deduct a point or a half point for every foul called against a team.

3. Whenever a foul is called the ball be declared dead, and be given to the offensive side, with the right to put it in play without being hampered by guarding.

4. Require the opponent of the player who commits the foul to try the free throw.

5. Change the scoring rules as follows: Goal from field, 3 points; goal from personal foul, 2 points; goal from technical foul, 1 point; goal from free throw, 1 point.

The first three suggestions seem best as they place an equal penalty for each offense.

SCHEDULES WRONG IN BIG CONFERENCE

Ohio Finds it Too Expensive to Arrange Games With Western Teams

Just so long as college football schedules are arranged in a haphazard fashion, the annual fall tangle as to who is really the champion will continue.

Only the defeat of Ohio State by Illinois cleared up the situation in the Western Conference. A victory for State would have given that team grounds for claiming the title on the other hand, Iowa had plenty of evidence to offer in behalf of its claim. Chicago incidentally further straightened out the situation by defeating Wisconsin.

The location of Iowa doesn't make it a very desirable attraction for the State. John, director of athletics, when asked to explain the situation, offered the following argument:

"The logical big games for Ohio State are Michigan, Chicago and Illinois. While we still have another year to go with our two-year contract with Minnesota, the great distance between the two universities makes the scheduling of games a great task for both eleven. The biggest objection on the part of both the Ohio and Minnesota faculty is that college work is seriously impaired because of the time required for the trips. It is the same with Iowa. A mere matter of distance has kept Iowa off our schedule."

That alone kept us from taking business with Iowa for this year. The location of Ohio State at one extreme of the Conference makes it a tough job to arrange games with teams at the other extreme, and satisfy all conditions. Inasmuch as coaches and directors arrange schedules to best suit their own conditions, it will always arise, when two or more teams in the Conference have clean records."

BADGER QUINTET LOOKS LIKE CHAMPION OUTFIT

Special to the Post-Crescent

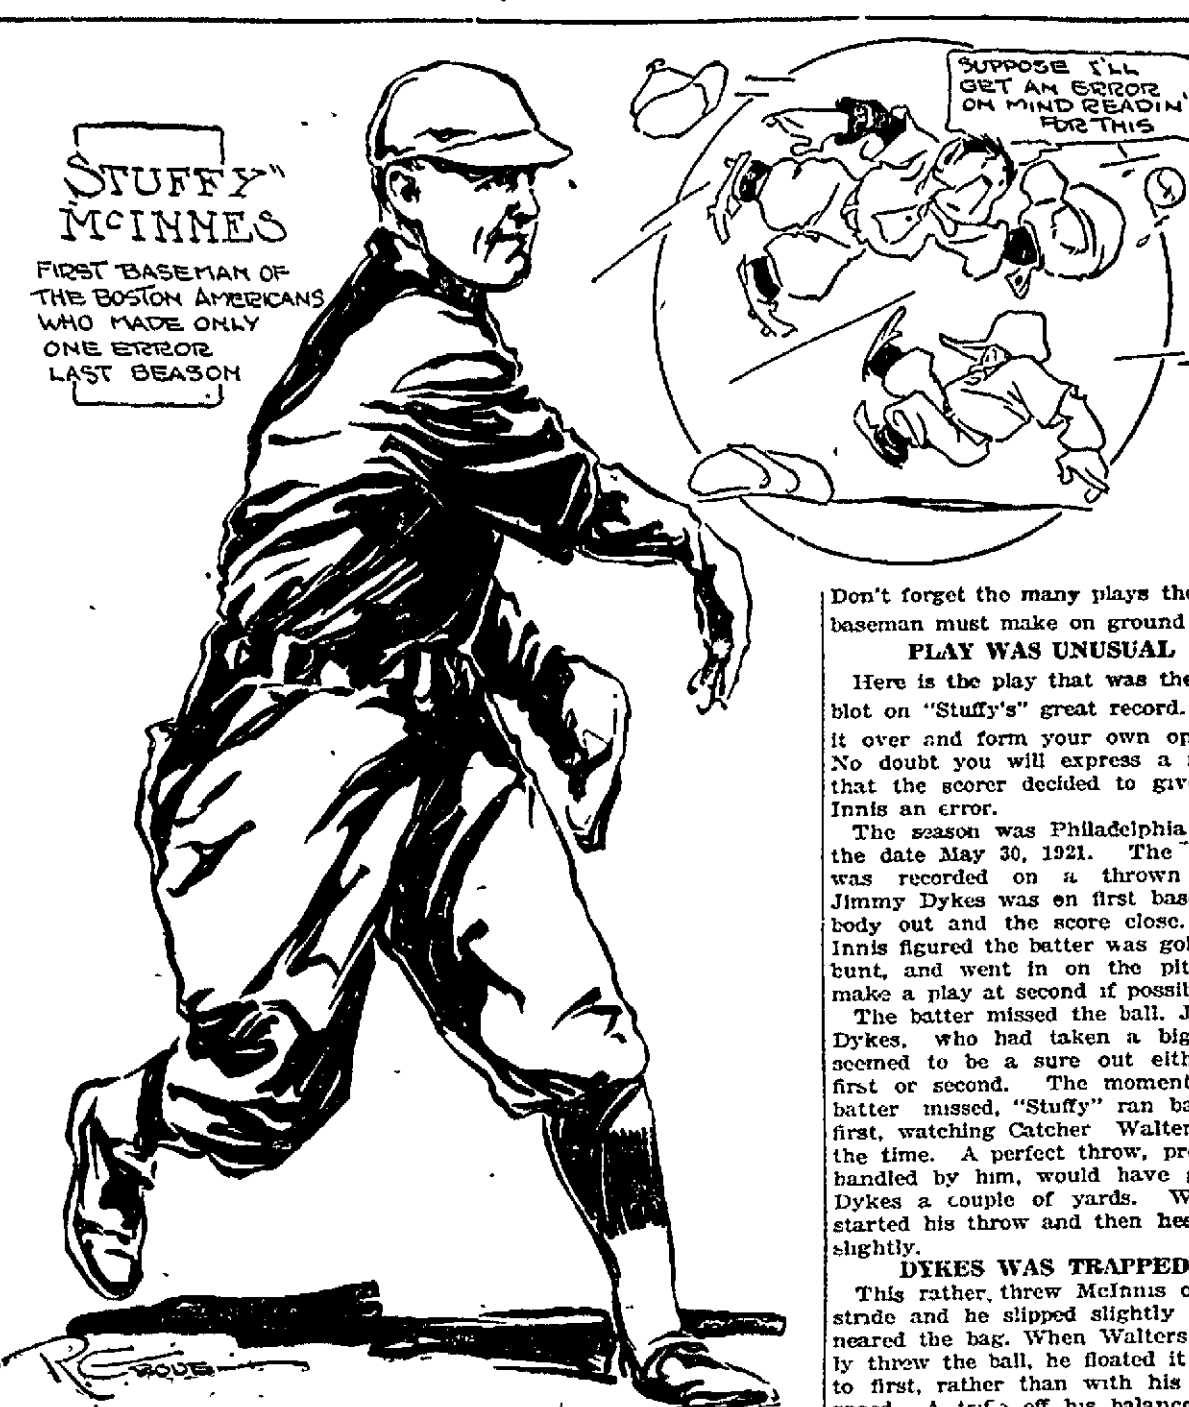

Madison—Having rounded into excellent condition during the past few weeks of practice, the University of Wisconsin basketball team is ready for the opening of the season here with the Michigan Aggies December 10.

Coach W. E. Mannwell has cut his squad down to 20 men and is once again training on a definite quintet which is expected to represent the Badgers during the coming season. With four of last year's regulars back, Mannwell hopes to turn out a championship five.

Madison reports that Tom Jones, athletic director, and John Richards, foot ball coach, have luried the hatchet. Let us hope so any way. The rumormongers in the athletic department have been smoothed over and Richards has given up his thoughts of resigning.

M'Innis Makes One Error In Season

By Billy Evans

"Stuffy" McInnis, the brilliant first baseman of the Boston Red Sox, made a most remarkable record last season.

Usually, when a player performs some unheard of feat, it is heralded all over the states in big headlines. In many ways the record of McInnis was one of the most extraordinary feats ever performed in the major leagues, yet it has been given only slight consideration.

Playing through the entire season, McInnis made only one error. Consider the fact that he played 154 games, and that he was the first baseman, the most difficult position to play.

Don't forget the many plays the first baseman must make on ground balls. PLAY WAS UNUSUAL

Here is the play that was the only blot on "Stuffy's" great record. Read it over and form your own opinion. No doubt you will express a regret that the scorer decided to give McInnis an error.

The season was Philadelphia and the date May 30, 1921. The error was recorded on a throw ball. Jimmy Dykes was on first base, no-buddy out and the score close. McInnis figured the batter was going to bunt, and went in on the pitch to make a play at second if possible.

The batter missed the ball. Jimmy Dykes, who had taken a big lead seemed to be a sure out either at first or second. The moment the batter missed, "Stuffy" ran back to first, watching Catcher Walters all the time. A perfect throw, properly handled by him, would have gotten Dykes a couple of yards. Walters started his throw and then hesitated slightly.

DYKES WAS TRAPPED
This rather, threw McInnis off his stride and he slipped slightly as he neared the bag. When Walters finally threw the ball, he floated it down to first, rather than with his usual speed. A trifling off his balance, McInnis was forced to stretch for the ball and was unable to hold it. That enabled Dykes to get back to first in safety.

It is a cinch the scorer would have overlooked the play entirely had he known it was to be the only thing that approached a misplay on the part of McInnis all year.

Today's Sport Angle

Good left-handed pitchers seem to be a rather scarce article.

Just at present the big idea with at least a half dozen major league clubs, is the securing of a left-hander who can deliver.

The New York club managed to win the American League pennant without a classy southpaw. It was one of the very few times that a major league club has turned such a trick.

However, the New York club, despite the fact that it won the pennant, realizes that it not only needs a good left-hander but a right hander to hold it in case it is needed on with the Boston club, whereby the Yankees will acquire either Pennock, a southpaw, or Jones and Bush, right-handers.

The Cleveland club is in much the same fix. Walter Meigs, who did such big things in 1920, was a dismal failure in 1921. His future as a member of the Cleveland club is filled with doubts. Like the New York club, Cleveland will certainly try to put over a deal this winter.

The St. Louis club that ran third in the American League has Billy Byrne, a youngster who gives much promise, as the only left-hander on its roster.

The pitching among the first three clubs in the National League is more uniform. New York has Neft, Pittsburgh has Cooper and St. Louis has Sherdel. The latter is a pretty fair southpaw, while Neft and Cooper are the leaders.—B. E.

Sport Views And News

There has been a shake up in the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association and Principal P. F. Newman of Marinette High has been named president to succeed G. A. Chamberlain of Milwaukee who held the post for 20 years. Fred J. Holt of Edgerton and Volney G. Barnes of Madison are the other members of the new board. It is to be hoped that this new set of officers will put new life into the organization, which has been slumbering soundly for a number of years.

Three changes were made in the W. I. A. A. code of rules at the first meeting of the board. The new regulation reads: "No school shall donate to any athlete a sweater, job, or blanket."

This means that the time honored custom of giving first team players sweaters and other "glory rags" is supposed to be a thing of the past. However, we'll bet our bottom dollar that not a dozen institutions in the state live up to this ruling. Nevertheless, Marinette principal, is head of the W. I. A. A. yet the Twin City schoolers are going to have a sweater party next week for their football team.

SHAKE MOTHBALLS OUT OF BASEBALL EARLY NEXT WEEK

League Magnates Get Together in New York to Plan for Next Year

By Henry L. Farrell

By United Press Licensed Wire

New York—Baseball will shake out of the moth balls next week for its annual winter alrins.

The yearly meeting of the minors opens Monday in Buffalo to be followed by the winter sessions of the National and American leagues and the joint session of both leagues in New York.

Judge Landis, the presidents and most of the managers and owners of the big leagues will attend.

The major magnates will be chiefly interested in what comes from the keynote of the concave room about the draft.

The majors still want all the minors under the draft blanket although they maintain that they are disinterested and that the bushes are planting them by not coming in.

Appeal of the players of the International and Pacific Coast leagues and the American Association for a change in the present arrangement which they claim denies them property out and the score close.

McInnis figured the batter was going to bunt, and went in on the pitch to make a play at second if possible.

The batter missed the ball. Jimmy Dykes, who had taken a big lead seemed to be a sure out either at first or second. ## HIGH BASKETEERS BEGIN WORK OUTS EARLY NEXT WEEK

At Least Two Dozen Men are Expected to Try for Places on Team

Between twenty and twenty-five men will report for basketball practice at the high school it was indicated at a meeting of basketball candidates Wednesday afternoon. Several members of last year's championship team did not attend the meeting but will report for practice.

The first workout is scheduled for next Monday afternoon and practice will be held every afternoon in the high school gymnasium until the Christmas holidays. Coach A. K. Vincent expects to have three or four good teams.

The season will be opened Jan. 6 with a game at DePere. Leon C. High, faculty manager of athletics, is preparing the schedule. He expects to have it ready for announcement within a few days.

BOEHME TACKLES TOUGH FOE IN MILWAUKEE RING

Milwaukee—Tommy Carter, Texas lightweight, meets Eddie Boehme, Milwaukee, here tonight in a ten round, no decision bout.

Mel Coogan, New York, is a heavy favorite over Tony Dennis, Milwaukee, in their ten round semi-windup bout on the same card.

"I've passed up the Dempsey-Willard bout because I can't do business with Willard. I can't get any kind of an answer from him. He has the contract I sent him and I guess he's forgotten it," Rickard said Friday.

The big promoter just gave one of his characteristic chuckles when asked about the $2,000,000 gusher the former heavyweight champion found parked in his back yard.

"I know a few things about oil" he added with a grin.

As far as being the stage for another heavyweight championship, the Jersey City arena won't be much good next summer, Rickard believes.

"I can't see a good bout for Dempsey that would be a card for the time. The only heavyweight in sight now is Fred Fulton and he's not 'enough of an attraction to fill the stadium' Rickard said.

"Fulton ought to be a good card for the Garden and I wouldn't mind putting him on with Dempsey if he would go out and work himself up a little bit."

Despite the stories of Carpenter's ability being clouded from Frank Rickard insists that the European heavyweight champion is coming back in February to meet Tommy Gibbons.

System Is Needed To Pick Grid Champion Of Badger High Schools

Division of State Into Districts and Careful Arrangements of Schedules Would Make it Possible to Determine Winner.

Another football season has gone into history without definite selection of a state high school champion. The same thing has happened for several years and yet nothing is being done to clear up the muddle.

Two teams in this section of the state are claiming the title and neither team has much of a basis. Marinette, in spite of its defeat at the hands of Oshkosh, has called itself the state champion and Oshkosh, by virtue of its win over Marinette and its clean record also lays claim to the title. Both teams have fairly good claims but neither has done anything to prove beyond a doubt its title to the championship.

There are just as many schools with basketball teams as there are schools with football and it is comparatively easy to pick a basketball champ. Why not apply the same system to football?

DISTRICT STATE
It has been suggested that the state be divided into four large districts as a basis for determining championship. One district would include the Fox river valley and all the territory north to Marinette. Another would take in the southeastern section of the state, including Racine, Kenosha, Janesville, Beloit and those schools. A third district would include the southwestern and western section, taking in Madison, Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls. The Wisconsin river valley, Superior, Rhinelander, Antigo and the northwestern corner of the state would be included in the fourth district.

While the teams in each of the districts would schedule their own games, it would be suggested that they play with teams in their own sections in order to determine sectional supremacy.

SYSTEM IN SCHEDULES
There are not more than eight or ten teams in any of the sections worthy of champion consideration and a little care in arrangement of schedules would make it easily possible to determine a district champion. The last Saturday before Thanksgiving day should be left open by all teams which figure they are in the race and that day should be used for elimination games to determine the teams which will compete for the championship. With a winner determined in each of the four districts it will easily be possible to pit the winner of the northwestern against the winner of the northeastern district in a neutral city, and the winners in the southwestern and southeastern sections would get together. Winners of those two games should meet in some good football city—Appleton for example—to definitely determine the state championship.

It would easily be possible to determine the championship of the northeastern district if judgment is used in arranging a schedule. The strongest teams in the district would be Marinette, East Green Bay, West Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Manitowish and possibly Oconto, Kaukauna, and Sheboygan. Appleton easily could arrange a schedule to include games with Kaukauna, West Green Bay, Oshkosh, Marinette, Fond du Lac and East Green Bay. Marinette could play Oconto, Manitowish, Oconto, Kaukauna, and Sheboygan. East Green Bay could take on Sheboygan, Kaukauna, Marinette, Appleton, Oshkosh and West Green Bay. The Oshkosh schedule might include Fond du Lac, Manitowish, Appleton, East Green Bay, Marinette and Oconto. Other teams also might arrange their schedules so that when the season is over every team of consequence will have played every other so that it will be a comparatively easy matter to pick a district winner.

MANY CHANGES IN BASKETBALL RULES

Among the changes in the rules noted in this year's edition of the Spalding Basketball Guide are the following:

A substitute may not participate in the game until he has reported to and been recognized by the referee. The referee is given power to call fouls for unsportsmanlike conduct on the part of the players or spectators. When the ball is tossed up between two players the referee and the umpire shall see that the other players are in such positions that they do not interfere with the jumpers.

On a court laid out in accordance with the rules, the entire backboard is to be considered in bounds, but the supports are considered out of bounds. An important change has been made to the effect that in starting a dribble from a stationary position, a player has the same privilege as has always been given in throwing for goal or in making a pass.

When the ball is tossed up between two players, each player shall have his hand in contact with the middle of the small of his back.

"Under the basket" in the rules is defined as referring to a point such that the basket or backboard would interfere with the ball or with one or both jumpers if the ball were tossed up at that point.

Time shall be taken out at the request of a captain only when his team is in possession of the ball, except in case of injury.

KOPF FAMILY SHINING IN ALL SORTS OF SPORTS

The Kopf family is playing a prominent part in sports these days. Larry Kopf for a number of years has been the star shortstop of the Cincinnati Reds.

At Dartmouth for several years a brother of Larry's has been one of the mainstays of the Hanover baseball team. He looked so good to Ted Tetreau, the former Giant, who is now coach at Dartmouth, that he recommended him to McGraw. He was with the Giants the greater part of the year.

Now it develops that the Kopf who has been playing such a prominent part in the success of the Washington and Jefferson eleven is another brother. His name is Herb. He scored the touchdown that beat University of Pittsburgh.

RESCUE CREW FROM BURNING SCHOONER

By United Press Leased Wire
Seattle, Wash.—Bursting into flames 15 miles off Cape Flattery and abandoned by her crew, the Japanese sailing schooner Kwon Maru, laden with salt for Port Alberni, B. C., was reported lost Thursday.

The crew was saved by the Tosan Maru. A second Japanese vessel, the Sakai Maru, steamer, inbound from Yokohama to load lumber for Suzuki and company, is reported in distress off the mouth of the Columbia river, near the point where the Red Stack tug Sea Eagle is believed to have foundered last week and where the schooner Eccla, being towed by the tug, disappeared.

CONFERENCE BOSSES PREPARE GRID LISTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Fencing, wrestling and gymnastic coaches of the western conference met here Friday to arrange a schedule for the season.

The place and time of the big ten championships in these events will be definitely settled at this time. Football coaches meet tomorrow to arrange the gridiron cards for 1922. At the same time track, basketball and swimming mentors will gather in annual session.

Little attempt will be made, it is thought, to list football games with eastern institutions. Only one inter-

BOXING IN NEW YORK IS IN PRECARIOUS WAY

New York.—Taking a ray at boxing is becoming a popular pastime in New York.

The battling ranks of Tex Rickard, Jack Curley and the "boxers' union" have a new addition now in the National Sporting Club.

This club, which organized two years ago to elevate boxing through the moral support of the best people in New York, serves notice on the warring elements to quit warring, or they'll have to go to work. The club says unless conditions are changed, it will go before the governor and ask the repeal of the boxing law.

Tips from upstairs have it that Gov. Miller is just waiting for some responsible organization to give him the excuse to close all the fight shops and put the poor abused prize fighters to work.

It is planned to name the new stadium at Illinois, Huff Field, in honor of George Huff, present director of athletics at that institution. It would be a well deserved tribute to the man who has done more for athletics at Illinois than any other person who could be named.

Harry Davis, the veteran first sacker of the days when the Athletics were winning world championships, says Hauser, who will play first for the Connle Mack next year, is a great ball player. ## INTERLAKERS PLAY OSHKOSH TEAM HERE

Oshkosh normal school basketball team will be seen in action here against the Interlake Pull and Paper Co. team in Armory G Saturday evening. The Interlakers will present their full strength against the Oshkosh teachers. The teams have been playing early in the season for several years.

A large number of games with some of the best teams in this part of the state are being arranged by the Interlake management.

Georgetown Favored
Boston College, twice the conquerors of Yale, seem to be in for trouble when they meet Georgetown at Boston for the Catholic championship of the east. Forham and Boston played a 9 to 0 tie, while Georgetown trimmed Fordham 34 to 7.

PACKERS AND RACINE PLAY FOR STATE TITLE

Considerable interest has been stirred up in the state by the football game between the Green Bay Packers and the American legion team of Racine for the state professional championship to be played in Milwaukee Sunday afternoon. Both teams will be accompanied by large delegations of fans.

The Packers have the more imposing record but the Racine team also has shown up well this year. Gillo, formerly of Colgate, an All-American selection, is the mainstay of the Racine team.

Jack Ryan, Marquette university coach, will referee the game.

ARREST TWO MEN ON CHARGE OF ARSON

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—Louis Cohen and Morris Kenevsky were arraigned Thursday on charges of attempting arson.

The pair were surprised when they entered the building of the Service Steam Laundry company late Tuesday night. George H. Nettleton, state fire marshal, had received a tip that the men were going to set fire to the building and with three agents recovered himself in the building. The men had 40 gallons of gasoline in an automobile outside.

My Reputation as a Housekeeper was at Stake

"Frankly, I didn't know what to do. The card club was coming to my house at two o'clock and I had to serve sandwiches to them.

"What was my embarrassment when I found that I was out of the expensive spread for bread which I used on such occasions. But good fortune was with me; I opened a package of and spread the sandwiches thick with it. I didn't tell anybody that I was serving margarine, but it made a big hit. Mrs. Dawson complimented me on the fine taste; several others agreed with her that my spread for bread was tasty and delicious, and little Mrs. Fisk went so far as to ask me what kind I used.

The Finest Spread for Bread

"I admitted it was GOOD LUCK Margarine, and I was greatly surprised to find that several of my best friends used it continuously.

"I serve GOOD LUCK now at every meal, and I boast of using it. I find it economical, nutritious and popular with every member of the family, especially my little kiddies."

Jelke GOOD LUCK Margarine is absolutely the finest spread for bread at about one-half the cost of expensive spreads. Ask your dealer.

FOOD PAGE

A large amount of meat sent to the market is meat that comes from unhealthy animals. This meat is absolutely unsanitary and contains many germs detrimental to good health. Only proper buying and careful handling by the market owner can save the average family from this serious case. The safest way to buy meat is to go to the most reliable meat dealer that you know, one who can be trusted and depended upon to give you nothing but good meat. This precaution is always taken by the wise housewife, in trading at the higher class shops.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

HOME LIFE CHOICE OF LADY BEATTY

American Wife of Famous English Naval Official Gives Her Political Views

New York—"Of course, it is a wonderful home-coming for me. I am sure few American-born women can realize just how splendid it does seem to me after having been away 15 years, to return like this."

"Lady Beatty, formerly Ethel Field, daughter of the late Marshall Field of Chicago, and wife of the first figure in the English navy, Earl Beatty, was the speaker."

"Naturally, it is a double pleasure for me to return to America with my husband, to whom Americans are giving so beautiful a welcome," she continued, in our 16-minute chat.

"I will have to confess that I belong to those old-fashioned women who believe that woman's sphere is the home."

"While my interest in my husband's career has always inspired me to follow deeply and seriously all naval affairs, and while I was engaged in active war work for five years, I still feel that public evidences of activity are not gaining women anything."

"But please understand that when I say woman's place is the home, I believe that it is woman's duty to make the home a place where the broader interests of life are reflected."

"Of course, women should understand politics, but that does not mean she needs to appear publicly. There is a broad educational phase in understanding the political forces at work in society."

"In that respect the English woman, generally speaking, has always reflected a keen knowledge. It is just a matter of natural interest with her to discuss politics in the home. A woman of intelligence and understanding often has a very great influence in a quiet way."

"CONCERNING LADY ASTOR Lady Beatty begged to be excused from expressing herself on Lady Astor's political career. But an American woman holding a seat in the British Parliament did elicit the quiet comment:

"It is a remarkable phenomenon, isn't it?"

SAYS PAINTERS DID NOT STORE AUTOS PROPERLY

In municipal court Wednesday William Redner, garage owner of Neenah brought suit against Marx and Ellis, painters for damages amounting to $365 arising from their alleged failure to properly house two automobiles from the Redner garage after painting them. The cars were painted last winter and were left in a cold shed where the radiator of both cars were frozen, it was charged.

Judge A. M. Spencer, who is trying the case, will give his verdict Friday.

JUDGE BANS ALL COURT "RED TAPE"

Supreme Court of North Dakota Has Record for Dispatch in Legal Business

Special to The Post-Crescent.—Bismarck, N. D.—The "law's delay" is almost a thing of the past in the supreme court of North Dakota.

That's the work of Supreme Court Judge James E. Robinson. He was elected by the highest vote ever given a supreme court judge after he had promised to cut supreme court red tape.

He made good on his promise. Now nearly every case appealed to the supreme court is settled within 30 days after the appeal is filed or hearings held.

How did he do it? First, he refused to adjourn the court for vacation until every case pending before it had been decided.

He began a series of "Saturday evening letters" in a newspaper of opposite political faith. He began recording the days on which his brother judges were absent from the court and asserted they ought not to take pay for the time.

In his latest Saturday evening letter Judge Robinson says: "Those who serve the public steal their time, soldier and neglect their duties. That is true of nearly all judges and even the nine judges of the United States Supreme Court.

"Indeed the big nine are the chief sinners. They take long vacations, continue in the ruts of ages and hold only biennial terms of court. Instead of pushing their work and keeping their docket clean, like the North Dakota supreme court, they hold up most appeals for two or three years. Of course this is no business."
